Surp Giragos Church is a structure which is within the traditional urban area. The church which is composed of a group of structures is the biggest Armenian Gregorian Church of Turkey and the Middle East. It has an area of nearly 3000 m².

The construction date of the structure is not known. New Jersey states that after the church had completely burned down in 1881 it was rebuilt again in 1883. The building had been used as Arsenal and for other purposes until 1960;